

PinnacleAIS Announces Brad Wells as New Vice President of Inspection Services

Leading Provider of Risk Based Inspection and Asset Integrity Services and Technology Expands its Services to Include Inspection.

September 8, 2011 – Houston, TX – Pinnacle Asset Integrity Services (PAIS), the leading provider of services and technology specializing in improving asset integrity for the oil and gas, chemical, and mining industries, announced today that it has selected Brad Wells as its new Vice President of Inspection Services. Mr. Wells has spent the past 17 years in the inspection industry, focusing on the petrochemical sector in multiple areas across the United States. His most recent employer, Pro-Inspect Inspection Services, was bought by Moody International in March 2010, and Moody was then acquired by Intertek in March of this year. Mr. Wells, to parlay his experience with a more strategic approach to asset integrity, decided to join forces with Pinnacle this past week.

Ryan Sitton, Pinnacle's Founder and CEO, commented, "While Pinnacle has remained on the fringes of the inspection industry since its start in 2006, it has become apparent that it can better leverage its services when they are coupled with the capability for inspection. Clients no longer have to worry about sourcing their work from two companies. Pinnacle can manage the projects from start to finish while maintaining quality throughout." Both Ryan and Brad are excited to unify their respective resources moving forward and only expect them to improve Pinnacle's core offering in the future.
